Amy Mokris

"I cherish my time as part of the DePaul Honors Program. The community offered students an intimate, supportive network while challenging us with a more personalized and rigorous curriculum. By becoming involved with Honors Student Government, I was able to explore leadership roles in a setting that felt inclusive, creative and collaborative. Being surrounded by likeminded individuals, no matter how diverse our studies or career paths were, empowered me to be a bold thinker, more caring friend, and well-rounded businesswoman in Chicago and beyond."