

Honors Program alumni Ryan Zieman graduated summa cum laude from the Driehaus College of Business in June 2013 with a degree in marketing and commercial Spanish. Just a few months later, he moved to Spain where he taught business English, combining his business knowledge with his passion for Spanish language and travel.

With over five years of experience in the digital marketing field, Ryan has worked with top brands such as Chipotle, Barnes & Noble, and McDonald's. Recently, he was presented with the Rising Star Award from the Driehaus College of Business Marketing Advisory Council in recognition of his dedication to the DePaul marketing community and professional development.

Currently, Ryan is the North America Social Media Lead at Motorola Solutions where he manages the global corporate channels, employee advocacy program, and social event coverage.